

Bessie Coleman

Bessie Coleman became the first African-American and Native-American woman to hold a pilot's license in 1921. Known for her daring tricks in the sky, she also advocated for racial equality and refused to fly at segregated events.

HALLMARK
IDEAS + INSPIRATION